The 4 Corners of India - Challenges for John's Journey

The challenge is to traverse the 4 corners of India (approx. 14,104kms) as a solo motorcyclist with no form of backup support. The current record of 34 days is held by an Indian national who set the record in October 2016. It is his intention to reduce this time to a maximum of 30 days and thereby set a new record registered with the Guinness Book of World Records. Some of the challenges/dangers John will face include; altitude sickness, landslides, hostile regions, weather conditions ranging from -15 to +35C, roaming wildlife and crazy motorists. Lets get behind John and make his sacrifice worth while.

John will be attempting the ride in early August 2018.

Lets get behind him to help raise funds and awareness for youth mental health.

Fantastic opportunity to put Mandurah on the Map in supporting a world record attempt

Funds raised will support Peel Youth Medical Service to deliver free medical & mental health services for our youth.
